Santa Cruz

Santa Cruz Bicycles was founded in a space the size of a single car garage in the Seabright Cannery, in Santa Cruz, California. Their first bike, the Tazmon, was a single-pivot dual suspension bike that rattled established sensibilities. At the time full-suspension bikes were far from the norm, and a do-it-all bike. Santa Cruz now manufacture a wide range of high-performance bicycles for true cycling enthusiasts. Made from either carbon fibre or aluminium, we cover everything from hardtails to 8.5" travel downhill machines

Giant/Liv

Giant is the world's leading brand of high-quality bicycles and cycling gear. Their collection of gear and apparel, developed and tested by some of the top teams and athletes in pro racing, continues to expand.
